Night School a Success

Citizens generally will be pleased to hear that the night school for the teaching of English to our new Canadians, is proving a success. Already nineteen students, both men and women, are enrolled, and the interest manifested is most gratifying to the teachers. It is expected that the attendance will keep on growing from night to night.

It may be of interest to note that the Dominica W.C.T.U. is practically the pioneer along this line of social service. Their travelling secretary has spent nearly three years in the west, organizing night schools, Mothers' Clubs, Girls' Clubs, etc., among the new Canadians, the great aim being to bring the older Canadians and the new Canadians into sympathetic touch with each other to help them to get better acquainted with each other, and to give our friends from over the seas a helping hand in becoming Canadian citizens. Work of this kind has been organized in Fortage la Prairie, Brandon, Jordan Head, Regina, Moose Jaw, Weyburn, Estevan, Yorkton, Melville, Lethbridge, North Battleford and Edmonton. In Brandon, Regina and Melville, the night school work has been taken over by the School Board with paid teachers in charge.

The night school here meets Monday and Thursday evenings from 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. and is free of charge.

Mrs. Forman who has organized the work, leaves shortly for Calgary where she hopes to start one of the Mothers' Clubs.

Council Receives Good Agricultural Conference Offer for Debentures at Wetaskiwin on Monday

A special meeting of the city council was held on Monday afternoon with all the members in attendance except Ald. Boyer and Compton.

After a motion waiving the legal time for calling the meeting, His Worship explained that the meeting had been called to consider an offer for the $30,000 worth of gas debentures.

The secretary then read a telegram from McNeill & Young, Toronto, offering 92.75 net Wetaskiwin for the $30,000 worth of debentures, bearing interest at 4.5 per cent, repayable in fifteen years.

A general discussion followed regarding the sale and it was thought the city could possibly get a little higher price, and on motion of Councillor Johnston, the secretary was authorized to send a telegram to McNeill & Young to the effect that the city would accept 92.50 net Wetaskiwin for the debentures. The motion carried unanimously.

It was then moved by MacEachern-Gothard—that the Mayor get in touch with Mr. Martin of the International Supply Co., and offer him $10.00 a foot cash for a guaranteed hole for a deep well. Carried unanimously.

Ald. Johnston reported that the public works committee had inspected the building situated on west portion of lot 18, block 3, plan M which had been damaged by fire on the 4th inst., and recommended that if the building is repaired or rebuilt, this would require to be done in accordance with sections 1146 and 43 of the building by-law. After consideration, it was moved by Johnston—That the Harbours estate be authorized to repair building to comply with the by-law.

The finance committee reported that John Torrance had applied to have the interest and discount related on the taxes of certain property owned by Mr. Kolb. It was decided that the council could establish no precedent in the matter.

Meeting adjourned.

We understand the city has received a telegram from the bond brokers accepting the city's offer to sell the $30,000 worth of debentures at 92.50 net Wetaskiwin.

Sixth Apollo

Choir Concert

The sixth concert of the Apollo Choir series will be given on Wednesday, April 7.

This we understand, will be the last appearance of the choir this season, which to be regretted, as they have contributed largely to the musical life and entertainment of the community for the past five months and it is to be hoped that next season will give us another opportunity of appreciating good music by a local organization.

We do not know what the programme for this last concert will be, but we are assured by the executive that the public will be given a treat and a surprise in April, and if this surprise is being planned by the Apollo Choir, we are sure the public will not be disappointed in it.

The executive are contemplating a change in the admission arrangements, although the price will remain the same as formerly.

The Choir feel that the people from the country have some difficulty in getting in time to secure a choice of seats and the suggestion has been made that all seats be reserved at the popular price of twenty-five cents and tickets put on sale a week before the concert to allow those coming from a distance to get good seats without having to come to town as early as they now had necessary.

As the date for this concert falls after the lenten season, people will no doubt look forward to it as the opening of entertainment following the quiet of Lent.

It should be considered the duty of every farmer having good seed-grain for sale this spring to bring to the notice of the public in some way or other, the good grain he has to offer. Good grain is a scarce article this year, and if only a farmer can assist another in securing his seed grain, it is simply an act of co-operative assistance.

A total area of 350,000 acres was taken up in homesteads in the Peace River and Grande Prairie country during last year. This is equal to 15 townships. The total number of the homesteaded entries made in the Peace River agency in 1914 was 2,280 and through the Grande Prairie agency, 913.

L. Richards, who arrived in the city a few days ago to accept a situation with the East Side Drug Store, is a strong acquisition to musical circles, as he has played a prominent part in orchestras in the large cities for several years. He is desirous of organizing an orchestra in this city, and if sufficient players can be brought together Mr. Richards suggests that concerts could be given in the proceeds from which could be donated to the Patriotic Fund. All parties interested in the formation of an orchestra are requested to communicate with Mr. Richards.

The fire brigade made a quick run and performed excellent work on Friday evening last when the boys were called upon to extinguish a "blaze" which started between the buildings occupied by Chas. Boyer as a tailor shop and E. Pearl, Ltd., clothing store. The origin of the fire is a complete mystery. The brigade soon had three streams playing on the flames, which were brought under control in a few minutes. The water pressure was strong, enabling the brigade to extinguish the fire with remarkably little damage to the buildings. Considering it was so dry as matchwood. We understand all the losses are covered by insurance, and that the Harbours estate, which owns the property, will have it repaired as soon as possible. Mr. Boyer has re-opened his shop in the Commonweath Block, one door east of the Banner Grocery.

Dr. Dyde Gives Address on "Higher Criticism"

Rev. Professor Dyde of Robertson College, Edmonton, gave an interesting lecture on the above subject to a large and interested audience in the auditorium of the Presbyterian church, last Friday evening.

The lecturer first took up the chapters of Genesis and showing that they were composite in their character and not the product of a single mind. For instance, the whole of Chapter 1 and the first three verses of Chapter 2 are purely Elohistic in their origin, the remainder of the chapter being founded on a combination of an Elohistic and Jahvist pre-existing document or documents, and so on, till we reach Chapter 4, nearly all of which is Jahvist in its character.

The terms "Jahvist" and "Elohistic" simply mark out the different conceptions of the deity in the mind of the writer of the document in question. It was further pointed out that this connection that the Hebrew idea of Yahweh or Jehovah, however dim and confused at first, became much clearer from time to time, as the ages rolled on, commencing from the Mesopotamian period, until it reached its culminating point in New Testament days.

Right here it may be mentioned that the name "Yahweh" was thought of as the proper name for common use, and it became customary to use the name "Yahweh" (lord) or "Yahweh" (God) whenever "YHWH" occurred, which, as will be noticed, being written without vowels, so that it couldn't be pronounced.

Passing rapidly along, the speaker then came to the point out that the name of Deborah which formerly possessed an original entirely of its own, was later incorporated in the book of Judges, chapter 5, particularly attention being drawn to the fact that it was an excellent example of a "Jahvist" name, in the fact that it may perhaps be traced back to a state that this name Deborah (B.C. 1130) is occasionally seen as the name of a woman of Israel.

This song of Deborah is thought by many critics to be the earliest Hebrew composition extant.

Attention was also drawn to the fact that, from the internal evidence furnished by themselves, not all of the psalms of David were written in his time (B.C. 1000-965) but that some of them were written at other times, for example, during the captivity notably Psalm 137. This last production from his spirit and composition appears to bear all the earmarks of being a Jewish composition, the psalm in question. The book of Job, too, once considered to be one of the oldest, if not the oldest of the Bible, is now thought by the speaker to have been written at a comparatively late date in Old Testament times, and the Book of Isaiah in the period succeeding the exile, or in other words, between the days of Ezra (B.C. 444) and those which began with the rule of the Maccabees or Asmonean princes (B.C. 175).

During the whole course of his exceedingly interesting address the lecturer made no distinction (so far as the writer could observe) between the "Higher Criticism" which is in the main, destructive in its character, and the "Lower Criticism," a feature of which concerns itself with the constructive and textual phase of the subject.

At the conclusion of the lecture a short discussion took place on several points raised during the course of the address in which several of the City of the city took part, followed by an appropriate vote of thanks by the audience, after which every person went home, pleased with what they had heard.

Fine Diamond Engagement Rings $35

A Diamond is the hardest substance in the world. Nothing will scratch it. It is very hard to break even with a hammer. No acids will affect it. It can be made red hot and will come out just as bright as before.

Yet some diamonds are worth more than others. A diamond is valued for its whiteness and beauty also for freedom from imperfections such as marks and flaws.

We handle only fine quality diamonds.

The one mentioned above is a nice large brilliant stone in 14k gold setting and a beauty for the money.

OBJECT OF THE CAMPAIGN

It is not to be supposed that Patriotic and Production means increased production alone; it means also improved production. Neither does the phrase or term mean that any body assumes to teach anyone else how to conduct his own affairs. It is merely founded on the plain, acknowledged fact that nobody is so wise that nobody else can give him a hint or suggestion of value in some business or in some industry which is always possible to be too rigidly self-contained.

A man may raise an extra few dollars, but if he is too good to be taught, he will not learn or four times as much as the raising of a better.

PATRIOTISM AND PRODUCTION

Twenty million men are estimated to be under arms in Europe and as armies "fight on their stomachs," the problem which confronts the Allies of feeding the men who revolve the stomachs of the men fighting under their colors are kept tight, is a serious one. In addition there are the families of the soldiers and sailors, the industrial workers, the unfortunate Belgians who have lost everything but their appetites—all these have to be fed.

With millions of men who were formerly on the farms now in the ranks, where is the deficiency in food production to come from?

Patriotism and production go hand in hand and to show them in their proper and direct relation to the people of the west, the Dominion department of agriculture is arranging for a series of agricultural campaigns in Alberta. These are to be addressed by prominent and practical speakers and they will visit Wetaskiwin
on the afternoon of Monday, March 15, and hold a conference with the farmers, stockmen and business men of this district. In appropriate addresses they will give particulars of the food needs of the allied nations of the duty and opportunity of supplying it which lies within the grasp of the people of this province.

Alberta's contribution to the
of the Allies is one to be proud of
and this district was not behind and when the call was sound, Canadians and their brothers-in-arms depending on those who remain at home to see that there is an ample food supply on which to carry on the campaign to its ultimately successful conclusion.

The conferences which are to be held here and other places are to be held home to the people the empire's need and show how they can do their share. It is not commercial trading patriotism to say that it is good business as well. There is a and will be a splendid market for all our grains; the demand for feed, stock and for a creature's
all farm products is selling well.

We would suggest that the people of this town and district turn out in large numbers to hear the speakers and give their own views. If they do we confidently predict that they will learn a great deal on the practical and business side of their duty and economic opportunity in war time.

FEDERAL LAMBS ON

ALBERTA ALFALFA

Alfalfa is becoming an important crop in the irrigation lands of Southern Alberta, and an experiment has just been conducted on the Dominion experimental station at Lethbridge.
The result shows that it is entirely satisfactory and profitable to buy alfalfa at market prices and feed them with alfalfa as the principal ration. The alfalfa ration was supplemented with smaller quantities of oat hay and a certain amount of grain. The following statement shows that the average profit per head realized over one dollar.

Cost of 230 lambs	1,325.00	1,312.15
Selling price	1,569.95	1,584.95
Net profit	244.95	272.80

In this experiment the alfalfa was valued at $3.00 per ton in the stack and the oat hay at $1.00 per ton.
The cost of the whole grain was also included. The grain, which consisted of equal parts of oats and barley, fed whole, was charged at 12 cents per pound, which is quite in keeping with the market price at the present time.

In arriving at the figures quoted allowance was made for the cost of the labor and interest was also allowed on the amount invested at the rate of 5 per cent. for three months. The result of the experiment is further proof of the greater profit to be made by marketing crops on the way, rather than in the ordinary way, and also shows that when farmers engage in raising live stock there is no limit to the market that may be established for alfalfa grown on the irrigated lands of Southern Alberta.

Mr. Montgomery Commented on Maiden Speech

Referring to the address of Mr. Montgomery in the house, the Edmonton Journal, the Conservative organ, comments as follows:

"Mr. Michener followed Hugh J. Montgomery, Wetaskiwin, and Frank Whitelaw, Coronation, who moved and seconded the speech from the throne. It was Mr. Montgomery's maiden effort in the legislature and the impression he created was distinctly favorable. Outside the foisting the bounties of his own constituency vantage upon the members at some length, his address was one of well-blended moderation and humor."

"Mr. Montgomery moved the reply to the speech from the throne in a happy vein. He did not know where or when the barbarous principle was born which led governments to select the youngest and greatest member to move the reply, but he was in the hands of his friends and would do his best under the circumstances. Mr. Montgomery made only one erroneous step when he alluded to the speech from the throne as a message direct from His Majesty the King. He was probably not initiated into the inner party circle at the time of speaking or he would have known that it was simply an annual evidence of how to say nothing in the longest possible way, fabricated by minds in the inner sanctum of the cabinet council. But Mr. Montgomery took it as all wool and 36 lbs. and reverenced accordingly. He alluded to the thought that its contents should be alluded to with question, or met with the lie direct, or the lie circumlocution. The speech, he did not allude to the wonders of Wetaskiwin, which polished off one of the nearest symposiums of approbation heard in the house."

Mr. Whitelaw took a fall out of Mr. Montgomery's theory that the speech was a sacred institution. In the opinion of the member for Coronation, the speech was the precursor of opportunity to let the imagination run rampant, a chance not to be neglected in a popular assembly. In line with his beliefs, Mr. Whitelaw directed his efforts and what he said about the magnitude of the Coronation made Mr. Montgomery's eulogy of Wetaskiwin look like a rainy twelfth of July."

Mr. Michener, the leader of the opposition, also complimented Mr. Montgomery in the following words:

"Mr. Speaker, I desire to congratulate the mover as well as the second of the address. The house member of Wetaskiwin, who moved the address, has broken the ice, so to speak, for the first time. He has created a favorable impression, I am sure, in his introductory remarks to day. If I were to venture any remarks upon his election, I would say his personal popularity and the confidence the people of Wetaskiwin have in him, rather than confidence in the government, accounts for his large majority. I congratulate the government upon the acquisition to their ranks. To the hon. member I extend my sympathy. As a supporter of the government, I want him his speeches in the future will be confined to yes and nay for whatsoever is more than these is evil in the eyes of the government."

THREE BRITISH STEAMERS SUNK WITHOUT WARNING

London Mar 10—During the early hours of Tuesday morning, German submarines made their presence known at three widely separated points on the British coast, and it is stated officially, without giving warning to their crews, sank three British ships.

In one case, that of the steamer Tangier, which was torpedoed off Scarborough, in the North Sea, 37 men of her crew of 38, are missing. Only one man of the vessel was picked up by a passing ship. The attack which sent the Tangier to the bottom was made half an hour after midnight.

At six o'clock in the morning another submarine sank the steamer Blackwood, off Hastings, in the English channel, while a third submarine sank the steamer Princess Victoria, off Liverpool, at a quarter past 9 o'clock.

The news of the exploits of the German submarines came just as the British public were congratulating themselves that the threatened German sea blockade had been a failure.

Raymond, Alta., Mar. 6—The largest real estate deal closed here for several years past, involves some $1,000,000, which was handled by a Minneapolis syndicate, for the O.K. farm, located south of town. The O.K. is one of the finest farms in the Southwestern Alberta. It consists of 2,760 acres, well supplied with water. It is understood that the new company intend to carry on operations on a far larger scale than it has ever been before.

WHY HOG PRICES ARE LOW

The present low price of hogs is attributed by the Breeders' Gazette to the European war which closed two important markets. Germany, the heaviest purchaser of American hogs, has not bought a pound since last July, and the southern states market has been seriously impaired by the inability to sell cotton. Export trade to other countries was all so curtailed by the war. It has been generally understood that high cost hogs cut up by packers during the first half of 1914, lost money, owing to the paucity of provisions they found on their hands when the war broke out, which could not be carried over another season. Had the European and southern trade remained normal, collars would have been empty while the new hog crop became available. Hog product is a speculative commodity, and is subject to more influence than affect the fresh meat trade.

When foot-and-mouth disease was discovered an embargo was placed on the marketable movement of hogs over much of the country east of the Mississippi River. Demoralization resulted. Coincident with raising the quarantine hogs were rushed to the market, causing a deluge, and the crashing of prices. This at the inception of the winter packing season was a disaster to the porker, as the excess had no other place but the slaughterhouse. In preference to having hogs sent to the ditch, farmers sent them to the stockyards, willing to accept any price.

The advance in corn has stimulated hog marketing, and it is probable that much of the winter crop has gone to the shambles earlier than otherwise would have been the case. The 1914 pig crop was a big one, and vaccination saved many pigs that would otherwise have succumbed to disease. This had been expected but the other depressing influences were unexpected.

HOG CHOLERA IN EDMONTON

One of the most interesting matters which occupied the attention of the 1914 council, says the Edmonton Journal, was the trading of bovine swill to hogs, causing, so those who ought to know say, hog cholera in the Edmonton district, resulting in the death of hundreds of innocent porkers.

The hog cholera disease is likely to become acute again in the spring months, says T. T. Fisher, secretary of the board of trade. Mr. Fisher wrote a letter to the commission asking for information. He states that the city is allowing hotel garbage to go out, naming Wellington Park and Alberta park as two places where farmers are using hotel swill to feed hogs.

Present conditions point to a recurrence of the disease on an extensive scale with the advent of spring. It would be difficult to mention any more remote calamity that could overtake a district so dependent on mixed farming as this is, in the opinion of Mr. Fisher.

In the communication sent to the commissioners, two farmers are mentioned, but Mr. Fisher adds that one at Alberta park had forty-four hogs out of forty-six die of hog cholera, so I don't suppose he is hauling hotel garbage to his farm for two hogs only."

LIQUOR ADVERTISING OUTLAWED

Not only is the liquor traffic being crowded out of the ranks of legalized business, says the Toronto Globe, but a movement has been set in which liquor advertisements in newspapers and magazines and on billboards outlawed. The current issue of The Fourth Estate, the trade journal of the newspaper business, reports that the Governor of Alabama vetoed the bill passed by the state legislature forbidding the publication of liquor advertisements in newspapers and periodicals circulating within the state of Alabama, and that ten days ago the Governor veto was overridden by the Senate by more than the required two-thirds majority vote. "The bill becomes effective at once says the Fourth Estate, and prevents all newspapers or periodicals from carrying advertisements regarding the sale of liquors. The governor says the bill will keep any publication publishing a liquor advertisement from being distributed in the state."

London, Mar. 8—From the number of ships engaged and the size and age of the guns, the battle of the Dardanelles is unlike anything in history according to naval experts. At 21,000 yards the huge battleships Queen Elizabeth, of the British fleet, and the Austrian ship, the Turkish ship, are engaged by smaller ships, is still hurling shells across the Gibraltar Peninsula. The Turkish ships at the Asiatic shore. The admiralty statement carries the operations through Sunday, and admits that it is Turkey not only scored three minor hits on the Queen Elizabeth, but that the majority of ships inside the straits, both French and British were struck. None were sunk, and there were no casualties.

Total eggs laid from December 1, 1914, to February 28, 1915. Class 1—non-weight varieties, six birds to a pen.

All the pens are now laying. In January, pen No. 15, Buff Orpingtons, forged ahead to first place but thimble pen No. 5, Brown Leghorns, winner the first month was a strong competitor and tied the score for first place.

While February was a short month the total yield proved an increase of 117 eggs over January, and 400 eggs over December, due to the birds laying, as the pen records for February were lower than those of January. The highest individual record for the month is again held by the weight varieties, 21 eggs being laid by pen No. 57, in pen 7, followed by pen No. 39, in pen 16, with 20 eggs. Pen No. 36, in pen 15, with 12 eggs equalled the highest individual record in the non-weight varieties held by pen No. 8419 in pen 5. One hen in each of pens 5 and 15 also laid 19 eggs, while two hens in pen 8, one in pen 6, and one in pen 9, laid eighteen eggs each during the month.

The highest pen record for the month is 68 eggs, held by pen No. 6, Brown Leghorns.

Average eggs per hen per month, 6.7. Total average per hen for 3 months, 14.75 eggs.

DEATH OF MRS. BRUCE

THREE KILLED AND EIGHT WOUNDED FROM EDMONTON

Another of the earliest settlers of this community passed away at her home in the Malm district on Friday last, in the person of Emma, the dearly beloved wife of Mr. William Bruce. Deceased had reached the advanced age of 71 years, 7 months and 10 days. She had not been in the best of health for some time, but no one thought she would pass away so quickly. She was one of the pioneers of the west, as she came to Calgary with her sorrowing husband in 1885, and twenty-two years ago they came to the Wetaskiwin district and settled on the homestead where they have since resided. She was a native of Stratford, Ont.

The remains were brought in from Malm and the funeral took place from the English church on Monday afternoon, the services being conducted by the Rev. J. H. Sheppard. A large number of the old timers were in attendance to pay their last tribute of respect to the departed. The interment took place in the Wetaskiwin cemetery.

She leaves to mourn the loss of a affectionate wife and loving mother, a sorrowing husband and one son, Thomas, of Calgary, who has the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

COLONEL BELCHER, C.M.G.,

GOES TO COAST AS

CAVALRY INSTRUCTOR

The shores are blind, the seas are mild.

The wild sea—westerns blow:

And at our posts on stormy coasts,

We go—e and seek the foe.

Behind their forts in sheltered ports

Secure their ships may be;

But the sea was made for sailor men

And sailors for the sea.

Through fields they sowed we clear

a road.

In weather they don't feel;

Long watch we keep while they can sleep.

Behind the booms of Kiel,

They lock us out, and wait in doubt;

For orders from Berlin;

But on the seas we hold the keys,

The keys that lock them in.

For blows they dealt beneath the belt,

For mines their hirelings laid,

For things like these they've sought

our seas.

We're out until we're paid.

In safety they like captives stay,

In danger we go free;

But the sea was made for sailor men

And sailors keep the sea!

The year of Queen Victoria's Diamond

Jubilee, Colonel Belcher, C.M.G.,

crossed St. Michael and St. George been assisting on the police here, goodbye to his friends around the having frequently visited his daughter, Mrs. H. W. Nesbitt.

Edmonton, Mar. 6—The first Edmonton man in the first contingent to meet his death in the trenches is

Private A. P. Peattie, who was a member of the cyclist corps. He joined the 1st Edmonton Fusiliers with his brother, when the first call for recruits was issued. They were lost in Scotland.

The four McCutcheon brothers, charged with conspiracy to defraud the public in the sale of western real estate, were arraigned before Chief Justice Mulock in the assize court at Toronto on March 1. Their case was traversed to the next assizes—the accusations being allowed out on $10,000 bail.

Nogge Jaw, Mar. 8—By a 5 to 1, a total of 17 to 8 on the series, the Monarchs of Winnipeg eliminated the

Edmonton Eskimos from the Allan cup race tonight's game.

The heaviest and hardest fought battle the Manitoba champions have yet had to go through. That the better team won tonight and last Saturday night in Regina, is the candid admission of Manager field of the Edmonton team after tonight's game.

Calgary, Mar. 6—H. B. Bonatti, M.P., stated today that a transfer of the western units to some central point would be made in the near future for the purpose of giving them advanced and concerted drill. The army boss troubles he attributed to the fact that the model had not been changed for ten years and by that account it was scarcely adequate for result for marching purposes.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION

There is a decidedly better tone in general circles in Western Canada. It is true that there has been no great increase in the movement of merchandise recently, but there are several factors which tend to create a better feeling and greater confidence in the outlook. There is no undue being misled by false hopes of any rapid inflow of money from the Old countries for investment here while the war lasts, nor perhaps for a considerable period after the end of the war, but there are reasons, some of which have been harped on frequently, why conditions should show a very gratifying betterment in this part of the Dominion this next spring.

It is admitted that it borders rather closely on speculation to reckon on having a good crop of grain this year in Western Canada. The only assurance we have is that the acreage will be much larger than in any former year, or account of the desire of the farmers to take advantage of the high prices caused by the war. Beyond that, however, the period of so-called depression through which the country has been passing for some time is really working toward greater benefit and much better things in general than promises that has been the case for years.

Much has already been said about the retrenchment which has been so much in evidence for a period extending away beyond the date when war was declared. Leading authorities in commercial and financial matters, for many months have been expressing the view that the retrenchment is one of the best things that could occur. Farmers, merchants and the people generally had no doubt been travelling too fast in some respects. A halt has been called, and the result is that, while money may not be very plentiful, business is on a better foundation than at any other time in the last few years. Farmers have been meeting their obligations, stocks of merchandise at country points are not large at present, new four corresponding seasons and there is less reckless speculation.

Other beneficial features might be mentioned, but to a substantial country has in the last year or two been getting steadily in better shape. A good substantial return to more normal conditions than we have recently been passing through is encouraging to find a very hopeful future among the whole of the provinces of Winnipeg and other western cities. They are going ahead with preparations for a normal state of affairs in the spring. It is a matter of time before the "good reasons" why trade in this part of the Dominion does not suffer as much from the trouble in Europe as much as other parts of the world. The importance of this country from an agricultural standpoint never looked up so brightly as at the present time, and where agriculture prospers other industries will flourish.—Commercial

MINES AND COUNTER-MINES

When the last Turco-German fort on the Dardanelles is blown to smithereens by the warships of the allies, the great 15 in. guns will not get all the glory. Dreadoughts and heavy cruisers are alright for smashing forts. They are helpless against mines; and it is the mines of the Dardanelles more than the forts that the warships have to fear.

Counter-mining, the newest form of mine-sweeping, is the method of brooming out the Turco-German mines. In the full open, a little picked launch the size of a fishing smack sets out, drawing 2½ feet of water, and a service cutter. The cutter is loaded with little 500 lb. mines on the ends of ten hollow steel poles, each fifty feet long. At 18 knots an hour every 100 feet a pole is fed out with a fifty pound mine on the end. When the little mines are all out in a string a thousand feet long, a rocket is fired up from the parent ship, to which the counter-miner is connected by cable. At that moment the line of little counter mines is fired from the parent ship, and if there are any mines in that area—the mines are blown up. The big naval guns silence another fort or two. The counter-miners come up from behind the forts and clear the channel of mines. Again the big ships move up the work of counter-mining is carried out at a mile an hour, and is the indispensable auxiliary to warships.

BANKS SPREAD GOSPEL

OF GOOD CULTIVATION

The chartered banks in the Canadian prairie provinces have jointly decided to send through the mail; in a spring one hundred thousand circular letters to farmers, urging them to do the necessary work to preserve the moisture in the soil. This is a step which has never been before taken in the history of banking in the west. The message to farmers was prepared by the department of agriculture of Saskatchewan, and it is intended as a last word to the grain growers before they go on the land in the spring. Packages of these circulars, with the best advice of experts in grain growing, will be sent to the heads of branch banks, and from the branches copies will be mailed to thousands of customers. Copies of the circulars will also be posted in many public places where the banks have these branches.

A QUEBEC DOCTOR SPEAKS

To The Editor:

A Quebec doctor spoke in part as follows: "I am only one of those poor men you call doctors that go out at night and work hard all his life time. You will excuse me if I only give you a little talk about what we are doing in Quebec."

In Quebec we are fighting very much. I may tell you that, lately in this fight against alcohol, the clergy, from the archbishop to the priest, including the nun, and the monk all fight against alcohol as an understood thing, every moment of their lives. From the archbishop to the priest, including the nun, and the monk all fight against alcohol as an understood thing, every moment of their lives.

"I will speak of alcohol as the greatest disease and the greatest cause of all diseases, the greatest cause of criminality and the greatest cause of all financial trouble. Thanks to the labors of scientific men, we now know that alcohol, no matter in what form is one of the greatest poisons we can take."

"A doctor who understands his business puts alcohol on the same footing as morphine and cocaine. We do not use alcohol any more. When I see we, I can reach for ninety-five per cent of our doctors. I see a large number of patients in my private practice and I never prescribe a drop of alcohol. In Quebec we are teaching science. We are proving that alcohol in any form is a poison."

"Alcohol in the blood of a father is an awful thing. You may say of a drunkard, let him drink and die through it, but what of the children of an alcoholic parent? Moral has been a law and order of years of trial it has proved to be right. He said that the children of an alcoholic father will disappear in four generations."

"Science has also proved that in the case of a mother who drinks during pregnancy the effects on the children are terrible. Not one child born before birth or very shortly after. W. C. Sullivan, a great scientist, has proved that the children of drinking mothers will die fifty per cent sooner than other children. In your insane hospitals as well as in the insane hospitals of Quebec forty-five to fifty per cent of the adults who are there for lunacy are there because they drank too much whiskey or brandy."

There are only a few of the things that Dr. Duha said last February in that they are not enough to get us wondering what is to be the end of it all."

ALBERTA FARMERS MAY GROW CORN

Before long it will be quite practicable to grow corn for feed purposes in Alberta, according to the report of G. H. Hutton, superintendent of the Lacombe experimental farm. The corn belt, he maintains, is creeping north at the rate of six miles per year, and he expects to see shortly large quantities of maize grown for fodder purposes.

Corn is now grown in a small way in some parts of Alberta, but cannot as yet be said to be a crop of importance in the province. In Manitoba, where a few years ago, the production of fodder corn was small it was not recorded, a crop of over 100,000 tons was grown in 1914 and it is predicted that similar developments will take place in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

WATERGLEN

The Dramatic Club at Water Glen will give their play, for the Belgian Relief Fund, on Saturday, March 13. They are looking for a large attendance, as nothing thus far has been done in this community for this cause. The promoters have put in a lot of hard work, and we are told that the play will be well worth seeing. Tickets are already on sale at the store.

LONE RIDGE NOTES

Last Thursday evening a number of young people attended the dance in the Lone Ridge Hall. The Redcoats served a very dainty supper and everybody had a most enjoyable evening. Where was Jack last Friday evening? We think he was out alone that night. Not much!

The Wetaskiwin Crystals intend going to Camrose on Tuesday evening to play an exhibition game with the team of that town, but were disappointed owing to a soft ice. gent Wednesday.
A number of townspeople journeyed to West Liberty on Tuesday evening to assist the people of that community in organizing a temperance society in connection with the prohibition campaign.

J. W. Mullen, of Edmonton, is spending a few days in town.

"Mamma," said little John. "I just made a bet."

"What was it?" she asked.

"I bet Billy Roberts my cap against two buttons that you'd give a penny to me to buy some apples with you don't want me to lose my cap, do you?"

He got the penny.

We are informed that a number of farmers are neglecting to observe the new regulations which require the wrapping and labelling of butter prints, and are thereby making themselves liable to prosecution. The regulations require that all parchment paper used for wrapping butter in blocks must be printed or branded "Dairy Butter."
